I always strive to analyze what makes a project unique and then ingrain this attribute in every part of the design in a meaningful way.

I'm continually amazed by the freedom games offer—whether through captivating stories, boundless and unconventional art, powerful and emotional soundtracks, or gameplay that delivers pure joy. I'm incredibly grateful to be even a small part of this world, helping to push the boundaries of user interface design ever further.

Project Fairyfall

MOBILE WEB 3 RPG

About the Project

Fairyfall, initially a codename for a mobile web 3 RPG, allowed players to collect diverse NFTs embodied by heroes. Engaging in guild activities such as crafting items, raiding bosses, and solo adventures formed integral parts of the gameplay. Unfortunately, the project underwent a complete overhaul by another team during its later stages of development.

My Role

I held the position of principal UI designer, closely collaborating with the UX team. My responsibilities encompassed designing the UI, which involved crafting the color scheme, custom icons, hand-drawn elements, and textures. Additionally, I played a pivotal role in developing new engaging pages, such as the raid map.

Sinister Stars

CONCEPT RPG UI

About the Project

Sinister Stars unfolds as a dark dystopian sci-fi RPG, where technology transcends its conventional definition and is perceived more as magic. Players embark on a single-player campaign, unraveling agendas set in motion by sinister forces with a century-long legacy, navigating the perilous path to avert total annihilation.

My Role

I explored the fusion of website creation processes with the game UI, delving into unconventional icon styles. Additionally, I endeavored to cultivate a wholly distinctive, vibrant yet dark design aesthetic that mirrors the narrative of the game.

MOBILE WEB 3 CARD GAME WEBSITE

About the Project

Astralion is a visionary project designed to blend the immersive qualities of a sci-fi game interface with the functionality of a website. The goal was to create a level of player immersion typically only achievable within a game environment.

My Role

The site heavily features Rive animations, adding great detail and engagement throughout. I was responsible for both the concept and execution.

Gods Unchained

MOBILE WEB 3 CARD GAME WEBSITE

About the Project

Gods Unchained stands as a decentralized competitive card game, drawing inspiration from the invaluable lessons gleaned from titles such as Hearthstone, MTG, and Faeria. The result is a game that beautifully centers around community engagement and shared experiences.

My Role

I was tasked with complete redesign of the GODS website. In the process, I meticulously transformed its UI style, infusing it with a fresh aesthetic, and introduced a plethora of new elements and captivating animations.

WEB 3 STRATEGY GAME

About the Project

MMO real-time strategy game with a 4X economy available for PC, macOS. The game is inspired by battle systems like in StarCraft and and Diablo Dungeon dynamics.

My Role

Following the swift creation of an initial ranking page, the Pulsar team expressed great satisfaction with our collaboration. Subsequently, I was entrusted with crafting the entire visual style of the UI. This involved the creation of diverse ornaments, textures, animations, and much more.

Guild of Guardians

MOBILE WEB 3 GAME

About the Project

Guild of Guardians is a roguelite mobile RPG in a world on the brink of destruction. Players build their dream team of Guardians to battle against the corrupting threat of the Dread while earning epic rewards.

My Role

I had the delightful opportunity to shape the overall design direction for the website, social media, and the game's UI. My role, as a UX and UI designer, involved crafting the user experience for features such as Staking and Purchase processes, while also contributing to the cohesive visual style of the entire project.
